Remote controlled by app.

Atena Up is the most advanced hot beverages machine in the industry: it is the first dispenser for instant drinks that can be managed directly from a smartphone or the Internet, guaranteeing total control of the machine in a simple, safe manner.

Our technology allows easy, instant, remote control of temperatures and doses, letting you program drinks and record details of drinks dispensed, wherever you are. Everything is controlled using either the app or a dedicated web platform, which can also be used to monitor an entire fleet of machines.
